

PADI Night Diver Specialist

During the night diver specialist course we'll look at how to plan a night diver. One of the most important considerations when planning night dives is TIME. A night dive has to be performed during the hours of darkness; some people forget to check what time the sun is due to set! We'll look at procedures for buoyancy control, navigation and communication. We'll cover different types of torches and buddy system techniques, disorientation and emergency procedures and also how to locate nocturnal aquatic life.
